

Created in 1950, the Ram's Head Bar was adults-only. Guests were able to bring their own alcohol under a unique "bottle permit." A license to sell alcohol was granted in 1953. But gambling and other financial failures by its management company forced the USFS to close the lodge by April 1955.

On July 1, 1955, Timberline Lodge re-opened by new permit holder, Richard L. Kohnstamm. His company, R.L.K. and Company, has been operating the lodge ever since.
